Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) is an arrangement whereby customers pay growers in advance of the growing season for a guaranteed share of the season’s harvest.

Price Study Background: Our research goal is to monitor prices that farm businesses are charging for a standard summer vegetable full share and to report our findings to producers. This is the fifth year we have collected CSA pricing data. We rely heavily on the price of CSA memberships (or shares) as advertised by farms and producer associations on websites and through social media. We compared prices of full CSA shares, typically offered for 16-20 weeks from July to October, that featured vegetables, herbs, and sometimes flowers or small fruit. We did not attempt to compare the contents of CSA shares, nor did we evaluate pricing for add-on items such as flower shares, fruit shares, meat shares, egg shares, etc. In response to producer inquiries, this year we also compared pricing for CSAs that advertised as USDA Certified Organic or had taken the CT NOFA Pledge. Below is a summary of our findings, as well as a full list of the CSAs that were included in the study.

We found pricing data for 110 farm businesses offering CSAs in 2016. We identified 17 farm businesses as USDA Certified Organic1, and another 32 were identified as having taken the CT NOFA Farmer’s Pledge2 but were not certified organic.

RESULTS

- Average weekly price of 2016 Summer Vegetable CSA = $31.06
- Max price = $50.00; Min price = $15.00
- Average weekly price for USDA Certified Organic only = $32.37
- Average weekly price for USDA Certified Organic & CT NOFA Pledge = $31.94

2 The Farmer’s Pledge™, a program for CT NOFA members, is a commitment to farming, marketing and farm management in accordance with sound ecological and economic principles. It is separate and distinct from “Certified Organic.” For more info: https://www.ctnofa.org/farmerspledge.html
